SIROHI,
6th April, 1939.

May it please Your Highness,

I have the honour to submit the Administration Report of the Sirohi State for the year ending 31st October, 1937.

Your Highness'
most obedient servant,
G. Laid Macgregor,
I. C. S. (Retd.).
Chief Minister, SIROHI STATE.

ADMINISTRATION REPORT

OF THE

SIROHI STATE

FOR THE

Year ending 31st October 1937.

CHAPTER I.

General and Political.

Physical Aspects.

Situation.

As has been previously remarked this State has been called after its capital and the latter has taken its name from the Sarnua Hill, on the Western slope of which it stands.

It is situated in the west of Rajputana between $24^{\circ} 20''$ and $25^{\circ} 17''$ North Latitude and $72^{\circ} 16''$ and $73^{\circ} 10''$ East Longitude and is bounded on the North, North East and West by Marwar, on the East by Mewar, Idar, and Danta and on the South and South West by Palanpur. The extreme length from North to South is about 64 miles and the extreme breadth from East to West is about 50 miles.

The country though fairly open is mostly covered by hills and mountains, the chief of which is the well known Mount Abu, the highest peak of which (Gurushikhar) rises 5,650 feet above sea level. Next to Mount Abu are the Arawalli hills between which and the Abu-Sirohi range is the narrow valley through which runs the B. B. & C. I. Railway.

There is no perennial river in the State. The western Banas, which is the only important river, flows during the greater part of the year. It takes its origin from the Sarnua Hills near Balda and Sonvara. It flows for 10 miles in a South Westerly direction as far as Jharoli (near Pindwara) and then turning South West continues its course for another 40 miles through the valley between Mount Abu and the Arawalli hills until it enters Palanpur territory to lose itself ultimately in the Runn of Cutch. There are several other streams in the country but they run dry immediately after the rains have ceased.

History.

“Sirohi” as Colonel Malleson rightly remarks, “is the one domain in Rajputana which maintained its independence, acknowledging the suzerainty of neither Mogul, Rathor, nor Marhata.” Claiming common descent from the heroes of the Mahabharat, the princely house of Sirohi is an offshoot of the same branch, Chauhan, to which the last Hindu Emperor of India belonged. Historic pride clings to masses as much as to individuals, conducting to honourable pride when rightly felt, and to none can it therefore cling more firmly than to “the magnificently stubborn Deora,” the particular sect of the Chauhans who have ruled over Sirohi during the past six centuries.

Lumbha was the founder of the Chauhan Deora rule on Abu, now known as the Sirohi Raj. In the time of Deo Raj's immediate successors, the Chauhans were engaged in constant struggles with the Parmaras, or Ponwars, (who held the greater part of the country now called Sirohi), and eventually vanquished them, capturing first Chandravati, in or about 1303, and subsequently Abu and Achalgarh. The present town of Sirohi was founded in 1425 by Rao Sains Mal, who extended his dominions by driving the Solankis from the tract known as Mai Magra in the North. The first relations between Sirohi and British Government took place in 1823 when a treaty was concluded with the British Government.

The Present Ruler.

His Highness Maharaja Dhiraj Maharao Shri Sir Sarup Ram Singhji Saheb Bahadur, G. C. I. E., K. C. S. I., was born on the 27th September 1888 A. D. and has attained his 49th year. He has got all the powers of a First Class Ruling Prince and is entitled to a salute of 15 guns and a return visit by the Viceroy. Prior to His Highness' accession to the Gadi on the 29th April 1920, he had conducted the administration of the State as Musahib Ala for ten years.

His Highness has been married:—

- (1) to the youngest daughter of His Highness the present Maharao of Cutch-Bhuj,
- (2) to the sister of His Highness the Maharaja of Ratlam, who has since died,
- (3) to a daughter of the Thakur Saheb of Kuwar in Gujarat and

- (4) to the daughter of the Thakur Saheb of Junia in the Ajmer District.

Ruling families of note connected with Sirohi are those of Bundi and Kotah. Marriages have taken place in recent times with the Kachhawaha family of Jaipur, the Rathor families of Jodhpur and Kishangarh, the Jadon families of Karauli and Jaisalmer, the Sisodia families of Dungarpur and Banswara and the Jadeja families of Cutch and Navanagar.

General.

The area of the State is 1964 square miles and the population according to the census of 1931 A. D. is 2,16,528 persons consisting of 1,11,675 males and 1,04,853 females of whom 1,93,779 are Hindus, 15,508 Jains, 6538 Musalmans, 534 Christians, 115 Parsis and 54 of other religions. The average revenue of the State is 10 lakhs.

Means of Access.

The B. B. & C. I. Railway runs through the Eastern part of the State from Maval to Keshavganj for a length of about 40 Miles with the following stations in this State's limits.

- (1) Maval, (2) Abu-Road, the alighting point for Mount Abu, (3) Kivarli, (4) Sarupganj, (5) Banas, (6) Sajjan Road and (7) Keshavganj.

The capital, Sirohi is 15 miles from the Railway Station of Sajjan-Road. Half the way from Sajjan Road to Sirohi is on the plains and the other half passes through hills. Cuttings through the hilly portion have been made to build a pakka road. A Motor Service runs between the capital and the Railway Station.

The number of motor services has appreciably increased during the year under review and all the important centres of the State with their neighbouring villages are now easily approachable owing to buses regularly plying between them and the capital.

Post and Telegraph Offices.

There are combined Post and Telegraph offices at Sirohi, Erinpura and Abu Road and post offices at Kalandri, Jawal, Sildar, Mandar, Reodar, Anadra, Roheda and Pindwara.

Rest Houses.

There are Dak Bungalows at Oria, Anadra, Reodar, Sirohi, Sanwara and Paldi.

Rest Houses.

There are Dak Bungalows at Oria, Anadra, Reodar, Sirohi, Sanwara and Paldi.

Objects of Antiquarian Interest.

(1) Achalgadh, (2) Adhar Devi, (3) Vashistha Ashram, (4) Dilwara Temples on Mount Abu, (5) ruins of Chandravati (near Abu Road), (6) the shrine of Sarneshawarji at a distance of two miles from capital, (7) the old fort of Vasantgadhi about five miles from Pindwara are the principal places of antiquity. Besides the above there are various other shrines which would prove of great interest to an antiquarian.

Trade Centres.

Abu Road, Pindwara, Rohira and Sheoganj are the chief centres of trade. Sirohi despite its being far from the Railway Station is also improving in its trade.

Visits.

Visit of the Special Emissary of H. E. the Viceroy.

Mr. F. V. Wylie, C. I. E., I. C. S., Special Representative of His Excellency the Viceroy and Mrs. Wylie accompanied by the Honourable Lt. Col. Sir George Ogilvie, K. C. I. E., C. S. 2. MEDICAL DEPARTMENT

Medical Institutions.

Vaidya Ratna Dr. R. D. Shirali, L. M. & S. continued to be in charge of the Medical Department of the state as Chief Medical Officer throughout the year.

As reported last year, the Medical Institutions are one Hospital at the capital and four dispensaries in the districts, at Abu Road, Sheoganj, Mandar and Kalandri which have proved very popular.

Due to the munificence of a local philanthropist one more ward for indoor patients of the scheduled classes was constructed at the Kalandri dispensary during the year under report.

The Zenana Hospital is being well attended by the citizens of the capital and the public of the districts. 6054 outdoor and 97 indoor patients were treated and 201 surgical operations performed during the year under report.

During the year under report 75936 outdoor and 389 indoor patients were treated as against 66139 and 419 respectively in the preceding year in the various dispensaries and the State Hospitals, which gives 536.55 as the daily average of the in-and out-door patients. 3206 surgical operations were performed during the year.

Crosthwaite Hospital.

The number of outdoor patients treated at the Crosthwaite Hospital increased from 17,910 to 21,798 while that of indoor patients decreased from 174 to 166.

The daily average of indoor and outdoor patients was 165.02.

Surgical Section.

The number of operations performed came to 1235 during the year under report.

Rabies.

There were 8 cases of bites by rabid dogs. Half of them were treated at the Abu Road centre and the other half at Sirohi.

Vaccination.

The number of primary vaccinations performed during the year was 5187 with a reported percentage success of 96.63. The average cost of each successful vaccination was 4 annas and 1 pie.

Expenditure.

The total expenditure of this Department which included Rs. 1289 for vaccination amounted to Rs. 29,717 against Rs. 31,697 in the preceding year.

Other particulars regarding the Medical Department are given in appendix XXIII.

3. EDUCATION DEPARTMENT,

Mr. M. N Zütshi, B. A. was in charge of the Department throughout the year under report.

General.

The nine schools continued to be maintained by the State. Consequent on the retrocession of Erinpura to this State the vernacular school at Erinpura which was thenceforth designated as the Darbar Vernacular School was put under the charge of the Education Department. The total expenditure on these 10 schools came to Rs. 22,299 against Rs. 21,105 of the last year; and the total number of scholars in them was 1001 against 890 of the last year. The daily average attendance of the pupils during the year under report was 740.32 against 669.56 in the previous year.

Colvin High School Sirohi

Introduction of the scheme of Physical Training combined with a daily gram feed and the institution of the system of incremental grades of pay for the staff were the events of outstanding importance for the school. To relieve the younger scholars from the tedium of purely literary courses flower making and knitting were prescribed as compulsory subjects for the first three classes. Attempts were continued to organize teaching on modern lines by class inspections, by increasing the number of terminal examinations, and by arranging a supply of stationery of the right kind to the boys.

To accomodate the swelling number of scholars an upper storey on the main building was built at a cost of about Rs. 12,000.

Of the 12 boys who appeared for the High School Examination of the year 8 passed, two secured distinction one in mathematics and the other in Sanskrit.

Mofussli Schools.

While at Abu Road and Pindwara schools, signs of wide awakening were manifest, Rohera retrogressed badly as its muster rolls fell to 28 only, the lowest figure in the history of the school. Fortunately this drop has proved only temporary.

Vernacular schools at Sirohi.

Both the Darbar Vernacular School and the Girls' school maintained their standards of satisfactory progress.

The Girassia Schools.

There was some improvement in their numbers, and daily attendance. Regular systematic teaching was more in evidence.

4. MUNICIPALITIES.

Introduction.

A Municipal Committee was first established at the capital in November 1921, the members being all nominated by the Darbar. In January 1923 the Abu Road Municipality was constituted. Both of them have a majority of non-official members on the Board, who are nominated by the State on the recommendations of the principal communities in the case of Sirohi.
